

Tag Lines for Accessibility

Tag lines are used to let people know about disability-related accommodations that can be requested to support their access and participation on an equal basis as others.

The following sample tag lines are recommended to provide consistent and clear messages. These should be included as relevant and in a prominent location on government publications, websites and event notices.

Alternate Formats

For website:

Documents are available in alternate format upon request

For publications:

Available in alternate format upon request

eAccess

If you experience difficulty in accessing this website or its contents, please contact [email link]

If you need more information or help accessing website content please send your question to us at [email link]

Scent Free

This is a scent-free event. Please do not use products that have fragrance.

This is a scent-free event.

Disability-related Accommodations

Please contact [name, cell # or email address] if you need disability-related accommodations to attend this event.