General cost criteria

70.3 (1) A cost qualifies as an eligible transportation cost only to the extent that

- (a) it is a cash payment;
- (b) it is directly attributable to the transportation of oil;
- (c) it is reasonable in relation to the circumstances under which it is incurred;
- (d) it is not a disallowed cost under section 68; and
- (e) it meets all of the other requirements of the regulations, except those referred to in subsection 70.2(2).

(2) Eligible transportation costs shall not include

- (a) amounts paid from one interest holder to another interest holder; or
- (b) amounts received by one interest holder from another interest holder where the amounts under paragraphs (a) and (b) are contemporaneous and corresponding, and adjust for the use of transportation assets for the transportation of oil produced under a lease to which this Part applies.

Eligible transportation costs

70.4 (1) Eligible transportation costs for an interest holder for a month shall be the interest holder's share of

- (a) eligible tanker costs;
- (b) eligible transshipment costs;
- (c) eligible other transportation costs; and
- (d) eligible transportation costs brought forward from a previous month under section 70.10;

less that interest holder's share of

- (e) tanker incidental revenue.

- (2) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph 70.3(1)(d),
 - (a) paragraph 68(1)(m) does not apply to the calculation of eligible tanker costs; and
 - (b) section 68 does not apply to the calculation of eligible transshipment costs.

Tanker classification

70.5 (1) A tanker used to transport oil produced under a lease shall be classified as only one of the following 5 types and that classification shall apply to all interest holders:

- (a) owned tanker;
- (b) capital lease tanker;
- (c) operating lease tanker;
- (d) second leg tanker; or
- (e) replacement tanker.

(2) The interest holders shall inform the minister of their classification of a tanker within 30 days of the latter of the purchase of the tanker or the execution of the lease and where the minister does not agree with the classification, the minister shall determine the classification of the tanker.

(3) An election or determination under subsection (2) applies for the life of the tanker.

(4) Notwithstanding another provision of this section, within 6 months of the first use of a tanker classified as a capital lease tanker to transport oil produced under a lease to which this Part applies, the minister may elect to classify that tanker as an operating lease tanker.

(5) Notwithstanding subsection (3), a tanker which is used as a replacement tanker for more than 12 consecutive months shall, for the purpose of calculating eligible transportation costs, be classified as

- (a) an owned tanker;
- (b) a capital lease tanker; or

(c) an operating lease tanker.

(6) Subsections (2) to (4) apply to tankers referred to in subsection (5).

Eligible tanker costs 70.6 Eligible tanker costs are the interest holder's share of the following:

- (a) eligible owned tanker costs;
- (b) eligible capital lease tanker costs;
- (c) eligible operating lease tanker costs;
- (d) eligible second leg tanker costs; and
- (e) eligible replacement tanker costs.

Eligible owned tanker costs and eligible capital lease tanker costs 70.7 (1) Eligible owned tanker costs for a tanker and eligible capital lease tanker costs for a tanker each equal the sum of that tanker's annual

- (a) eligible tanker operating costs;
- (b) eligible return on capital costs; and
- (c) eligible tanker capital depreciation.

(2) Eligible tanker operating costs under paragraph (1)(a) are

- (a) costs that would be classified as an operating cost for that tanker in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles for public accountable entities and good petroleum industry practices; and

(b) 10% of the costs described in paragraph (a).

(3) Eligible return on capital costs under paragraph (1)(b) are 8% of the undepreciated capital cost balance at mid-year, excluding any gross up to that cost in excess of the actual cash payment for that cost, for that tanker.

(4) Eligible tanker capital depreciation under paragraph (1)(c) is

- (a) the eligible initial capital cost of the tanker, plus
- (b) any eligible additional capital costs for that tanker, depreciated on a straight line basis over the remaining useful life of that tanker.

(5) The eligible initial capital cost under paragraph (4)(a) for owned tankers that are less than 12 months old is

- (a) the cost of the tanker as constructed;

plus

- (b) 1% of the amount described in paragraph (a).

(6) The eligible initial capital cost under paragraph (4)(a) for owned tankers that are 12 or more months old is

- (a) the fair market value of the tanker as determined by an approved appraiser,

- (b) 1% of the amount described in paragraph (a).

(7) Notwithstanding subsection (6), where an owned tanker's capital cost has been included in the calculation of transportation costs under a lease to which this Part does not apply, the eligible initial capital cost for that tanker under paragraph (4)(a) is

- (a) the undepreciated capital cost of the tanker, excluding any gross up to that cost in excess of the actual cash payment for that cost as reported under the other lease; and
- (b) 1% of the amount described in paragraph (a).

(8) Notwithstanding subsections (6) and (7), where an owned tanker was subject to a deemed disposition under a lease to which this Part does not apply and the value of that deemed disposition is included in the calculation of incidental revenue under that lease, the eligible initial capital cost for that tanker under paragraph (4)(a) is

(a) the value of the deemed disposition, excluding any gross up to that cost in excess of the actual cash payment for that cost as reported under the other lease; and

(b) 1% of the amount described in paragraph (a).

(9) The eligible initial capital cost under paragraph (4)(a) of a capital lease tanker is

(a) the fair market value of the tanker at the time of lease commencement as determined by an approved appraiser or the minister,

plus

(b) 1% of the amount described in paragraph (a).

(10) Eligible additional capital costs under paragraph (4)(b) are

(a) costs that would be classified as capital additions in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles for public accountable entities and good petroleum industry practices, plus

(b) 1% of the costs described in paragraph (a).

(11) Where capital additions are made to an owned tanker or a capital lease tanker, the remaining useful life of that tanker shall be adjusted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles for public accountable entities.

(12) The remaining useful life of an owned tanker or a capital lease tanker shall be determined by an approved appraiser unless otherwise determined by the minister.

(13) For the purpose of this section, “approved appraiser” means an independent appraiser of tankers approved by the minister.

Eligible operating lease tanker costs

70.8 (1) Notwithstanding section 16, where an award for a contract for an operating lease tanker results from a competitive tender process, the eligible operating lease tanker costs for that tanker shall be

- (a) the amount paid under the terms of the lease for that tanker;
- (b) operating costs directly related to operating that tanker; and
- (c) costs incurred by a tanker administrator that are directly related to administering that tanker.

(2) Where an award of a contract results from a competitive tender process and the successful bidder is not at arm's length to the interest holders, the minister may determine that the contract was not awarded under the competitive tender process.

(3) Where the award of a contract for an operating lease tanker was not made under a competitive tender process, the eligible operating lease tanker costs for that tanker shall be determined as though the tanker were a capital lease tanker unless the minister approves the calculation of eligible operating lease tanker costs in accordance with subsection (1).

(4) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph 70.3(1)(d), paragraph 68(1)(a) shall not apply to the calculation of operating lease tanker costs in paragraph (1)(a).

Eligible replacement tankers and eligible second leg tankers

70.9 (1) Eligible second leg tanker costs shall be the actual costs incurred by an interest holder for the transportation of oil produced under a lease to which this Part applies.

(2) Eligible replacement tanker costs shall be the actual costs incurred by an interest holder.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph 70.3(1)(d), paragraph 68(1)(a) shall not apply to the calculation of second leg tanker costs and replacement tanker costs.

Transportation costs carry forward

70.10 Where, in a month, an interest holder's gross sales revenue is exceeded by the interest holder's eligible transportation costs, the amount of that excess shall be added to eligible transportation costs in the next month.

Tanker incidental

70.11 (1) Tanker incidental revenue is the sum of

- (a) the amount eligible for inclusion as a component of transportation costs under a lease to which this Part does not apply for the use of one or more tankers as a profitable outcharter; less
- (b) the amount that would have been included in eligible tanker costs under this Part had the tanker not been used as a profitable outcharter, plus
 - (i) proceeds received from the sale, lease, licence or other disposal or use of lease assets or technology, but not the disposal of a tanker, where the costs were royalty costs under a lease,
 - (ii) proceeds received under insurance policies where the applicable premium was included in the calculation of transportation costs, to the lesser amount of the actual benefit received or the cumulative costs claimed, and
 - (iii) other revenue received on account of the lease that the minister may reasonably declare to be tanker incidental revenue.

(2) A tanker is used as a profitable outcharter where that tanker

- (a) is normally used to transport oil produced under a lease to which this Part applies from a loading point to a transshipment facility or point of sale;
- (b) is used to transport oil produced under a lease to which this Part does not apply, in substitution of a tanker normally used for that purpose; and
- (c) is used for the purpose described in paragraph (b) for less than 12 months, during which time the tanker normally used for that purpose is unavailable.

Allocation of eligible tanker costs and incidental
revenue

70.12 (1) The maximum portion of eligible owned tanker costs, eligible capital lease tanker costs, and eligible operating lease tanker costs that may be allocated to a lease shall be calculated on an annual basis in accordance with the formula

$$(A/B) \times C$$

where

A = days on which the tanker is carrying oil produced under that lease;

B = days on which a tanker is carrying oil; and

C = eligible owned tanker costs, eligible capital lease tanker costs, or eligible operating lease tanker costs for that tanker.

(2) Where a tanker is out of service for repairs or maintenance for 12 months or less, that tanker's costs shall be allocated in accordance with subsection (1) taking into account the use of that tanker in the 12 months immediately preceding the start of the month in which the tanker went out of service.

(3) There shall be no allocation of tanker costs where that tanker is out of service for more than 12 months.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2), there shall be no allocation of costs of a tanker while it is out of service for the purpose of modifying the tanker for the transportation of oil not produced in the offshore area.

(5) The maximum portion of eligible replacement tanker costs that may be allocated to a lease shall be calculated on an annual basis according to the formula

where

A = days on which the tanker is carrying oil produced under that lease;

B = days on which a tanker is carrying oil; and

C = replacement tanker costs.

(6) At the end of a period, an interest holder shall determine its monthly eligible owned tanker costs, eligible capital lease tanker costs, eligible operating lease tanker costs and eligible replacement tanker costs according to the formula

$$(A/B) \times C$$

where

A = annual eligible owned tanker costs, eligible capital lease tanker costs, eligible operating lease tanker costs or eligible replacement tanker costs ;

B = number of barrels sold in that year; and

C = number of barrels sold in that month.

(7) The maximum portion of tanker incidental revenue that may be allocated to a lease shall be calculated on a monthly basis according to the following formula

$$(A/B) \times \text{TIR}$$

where

A = days on which the tanker is carrying oil produced under that lease;

B = days on which the tanker is carrying oil produced in the offshore area minus days in which the tanker is used as a profitable outcharter; and

TIR = tanker incidental revenue.

(8) For the purpose of this section, “days on which a tanker is carrying oil” means days on which a tanker is traveling from a loading point to a point of sale, together with days on which

- (a) that tanker is traveling from the point of sale to return to its point of origin; or
- (b) that tanker is traveling in the manner described in subsection (9).

(9) Where the oil sold at the point of sale referred to in subsection (8) is produced in the offshore area, the following days shall be considered, in addition to subsection (8), to be “days on which a tanker is carrying oil” under paragraph (8)(b):

- (a) days on which that tanker is traveling from the point of sale to another location in the offshore area; or
- (b) where that tanker is traveling from the point of sale to a location outside the offshore area, the number of days equivalent to the number of days it would have taken that tanker to return from the point of sale to the Jeanne D’Arc Basin.

Tanker cost administrators and tanker cost aggregator

70.13 (1) The interest holders shall designate a tanker administrator for each owned tanker, capital lease tanker, operating lease tanker and replacement tanker on or before the date the tanker becomes available for the transportation of oil produced under a lease to which this Part applies, or the date that this section comes into force, whichever is later.

(2) The interest holders and the tanker administrators shall provide reports of all eligible owned tanker costs, eligible capital lease tanker costs, eligible second leg tanker costs, eligible replacement tanker costs and tanker incidental revenue to the tanker cost aggregator.

(3) The interest holders shall designate a tanker cost aggregator within 60 days of the coming into force of this section.

(4) The tanker cost aggregator shall allocate eligible tanker costs and tanker incidental revenue to each interest holder according to the allocation formula or formulas set out in the transportation allocation agreement or prescribed by the minister under subsection 70.14(5).

Transportation allocation agreement

(2) The transportation allocation agreement and any amendment to it shall not take effect until approved by the minister.

(3) The transportation allocation agreement shall include

- (a) an allocation formula for costs that is aligned with interest holders' costs, tanker ownership, contract ownership, usage and capacity in the asset; and
- (b) an allocation formula for tanker incidental revenue that is aligned with the interest holders' costs, tanker ownership, usage and capacity in the asset, which may vary from the allocation formula in paragraph (a).

(4) Within 30 days of an amendment to an agreement described in subsection (1), the interest holders shall provide the minister with an executed amending document.

(5) Where an executed transportation allocation agreement is not provided to the minister as required under subsection (1), the minister may impose an allocation formula or formulas.

Eligible transshipment costs

70.15 (1) Eligible transshipment costs for the use of the Whiffen Head transshipment facility shall be calculated in accordance with this section.

(2) An eligible transshipment cost shall be for the transshipment of oil produced under a lease to which this Part applies.

(3) In each month, eligible transshipment costs for an interest holder who is not a transshipment facility owner shall be the actual amount paid by that interest holder to the transshipment facility for the transshipment of oil in the month.

(4) In each month, eligible transshipment costs for a transshipment facility owner shall be the actual amount paid by that transshipment facility owner for the transshipment of oil in the month, less that transshipment facility owner's individual ROCC reduction for the month.

ROCC reduction

70.16 (1) At the beginning of a period, the transshipment facility administrator shall provide each transshipment facility owner with an estimate of its individual ROCC reductions in a manner prescribed by the minister.

(2) At the end of each period, the transshipment facility administrator shall calculate the total ROCC reduction in the period according to the formula

$$A - (CC \times 0.06)$$

where

A = the after-tax profit on the audited financial statements for the transshipment facility; and

CC = the value of the share capital issued and outstanding as reported on the annual audited financial statements for the transshipment facility.

(3) The transshipment facility administrator shall calculate the portion of the total ROCC reduction that may be allocated to a lease according to the formula

$$A \times (B/C)$$

where

A = the total ROCC reduction under subsection (2);

B = storage and berth costs allocated to oil produced under that lease; and

C = total storage and berth costs.

(4) The transshipment facility administrator shall calculate the portion of the ROCC reduction allocated to a lease under subsection (3) relating to the transshipment facility owners that are interest holders in that lease in the aggregate according to the formula

$$A \times y\%$$

where

A = ROCC reduction allocated to a lease under subsection (3); and y% = the aggregate percentage shareholder interest in the transshipment facility held by all the transshipment facility owners that are interest holders in that lease in the period.

(5) The transshipment facility administrator shall allocate the ROCC reduction relating to the transshipment facility owners in the aggregate under subsection (4) to each individual transshipment facility owner according to the allocation formula in the transshipment allocation agreement or as imposed by the minister under subsection 70.17(5).

(6) At the end of each period, each transshipment facility owner shall recalculate its individual ROCC reduction for each month based on the actual individual ROCC reduction for the period under subsection (5) divided by 12.

Transshipment agreements

70.17 (1) Within 60 days of the coming into force of this section, the transshipment facility owners shall provide the minister with an executed transshipment allocation agreement.

(2) The transshipment allocation agreement and any amendments to it shall not take effect until approved by the minister.

(3) The transshipment allocation agreement shall include a formula for the allocation of the aggregate ROCC reduction among the transshipment facility owners that is aligned with the transshipment facility owner's costs, contract ownership, usage or capacity in the transshipment facility.

(4) Within 30 days of an amendment to an agreement described in subsection (1), the transshipment facility owners shall provide the minister with an executed amending document.

(5) Where a transshipment allocation agreement is not provided to the minister within the time period prescribed in subsection (1), the minister may impose an allocation formula or formulas.

(6) Where an interest holder is a party to one of the following agreements, that interest holder shall notify the minister of an amendment or addition to that agreement which occurs after July 25, 2008:

- (a) the Reserved Capacity Services Agreement;
- (b) the Newfoundland Transshipment Facility Second Amended and Restated General Terms and Conditions of Service;
- (c) the Unanimous Shareholder Agreement; or

(d) another arrangement to determine customer costs for a transshipment facility.

(7) Notwithstanding a proposed amendment to an agreement referred to in subsection (6), unless otherwise approved by the minister,

(a) eligible transshipment costs shall be calculated according to that agreement before the amendment; and

(b) a transshipment facility shall not deduct costs related to the transportation of oil.

(8) Transshipment facility owners shall provide the following information to the minister with respect to the transshipment facility on an annual basis:

(a) a certification by the transshipment facility administrator stating that there have been no amendments to the agreements referred to in subsection (6);

(c) a copy of the transshipment facility administrator's audited financial statement and auditor's report;

(d) a copy of the audited final adjustment calculations and auditor's report; and

(e) a statement reconciling the transshipment facility administrator's total revenue to the amounts paid by each interest holder.

Eligible other transportation costs

70.18 (1) A cost shall qualify as an eligible other transportation cost where

(a) it is an operating cost according to Canadian generally accepted accounting principles for public accountable entities;

(b) it is not a component of eligible tanker costs or a component of eligible transshipment costs;

(c) it is a cost incurred by an interest holder; and

(d) it is a cost that is directly attributable to the transportation of oil produced under a lease to which this Part applies.

(2) At the end of a period, an interest holder shall determine its monthly eligible other transportation costs according to the following formula:

$$(A/B) \times C$$

where

A = annual eligible other transportation costs;

B = number of barrels sold in that year; and

C = number of barrels sold in that month.

Costs incurred
