

Channel – Port aux Basques

Hurricane Fiona smashed into Atlantic Canada on September 23, 2022 with record-setting intensity, washing entire homes into the ocean and downing countless trees and power lines that left hundreds of thousands in the dark.

Fiona, once a major hurricane, became an extratropical cyclone before making landfall in Atlantic Canada, but that didn't mean it still didn't pack a similar punch as a traditional hurricane.

The storm made landfall in Channel - Port aux Basques in the early hours of Saturday, September 24, 2022 and was the strongest on record for any storm in Canada. A massive storm surge brought on by Fiona's tremendous size, poured into the Town, washing away several homes. Unfortunately, one resident lost their life, and two others were nearly swept out to sea. Thirty (30) homes were extensively damaged or destroyed from the storm and another seventy (70) homes are slated for demolition.

Residents of our Town of 4000 people were severely impacted by the storm with many leaving their homes, taking only what they were wearing. Many lost much more than a home, they lost everything that meant the world to them.
