Students completing a minimum 60% of a full course load are full-time students and eligible for federal loans and grants only. To be eligible for provincial loans and grants, a student must be completing a minimum of 80% of a full course load.

Eligibility for provincial loans and grants while completing less than 80%, but greater than 60% of a full course load, is possible if there are acceptable extenuating or medical circumstances.

Eligible students with disabilities are an exception and are eligible for federal and provincial funding if they are completing a minimum 40% of a full course load.

If a request is due to medical reason(s), a medical professional who is familiar with the circumstance(s) must complete the appropriate sections of this form.

Note: Be sure to consult with the Educational Institution as they determine course load percentage. If the percentage of course load changes, students are required to submit a revised Program Cost Form to confirm unless they are attending Memorial University or Marine Institute.
