

Cultural Connections K-12 Arts and Cultural Strategy

Music, theatre arts, and visual arts, along with other forms of expression, help a culture define its identity and explore its heritage. Cultural Connections, a provincial arts and cultural strategy for K-12 education, aims to increase the presence of cultural content in the school curriculum and foster links between artists and students in the school environment.

Through this integrated strategy,

- Newfoundland and Labrador history and culture will be affirmed as a key feature of the K-12 curriculum.
- Students in the K-12 system will be encouraged to develop foundational skills in music, theatre, visual arts and creative writing, which may prepare them to aspire to professional training and career opportunities in the fine and performing arts.
- Students will develop a critical awareness of the role of the arts in creating and reflecting heritage.
- Students, and those who witness their expression of the arts, will also come to respect the contributions of individuals and cultural groups to the arts, in local, national, and international contexts, and will recognize the value of the arts as a record of human experience.
- Newfoundlanders and Labradorians, especially the younger population, will grow in their understanding and appreciation of the unique culture in Newfoundland and Labrador.
- The economic status of the province's professional artist and those in tourism and publishing will improve.

As part of this Cultural Connections strategy, the Resource Acquisition Program provides school libraries with copies of published works that are representative of the province's arts and cultural community. For a detailed listing of past resource acquisitions, please visit:

CULTURAL CONNECTIONS

In 2005, the Department of Education and the Department of Tourism, Culture and Recreation joined together to develop the provincial fine arts and cultural strategy for K-12 education in Newfoundland and Labrador, Cultural Connections.

In an attempt to increase emphasis on cultural content in the K-12 curriculum in Newfoundland and Labrador, the Resource Acquisition Program identifies resources that complement curriculum outcomes which address arts, heritage and cultural aspects of the province.

Since 2006 this program has enhanced students' opportunities to increase their knowledge and appreciation for people, events and places around Newfoundland and Labrador by providing local products such as books, theatre scripts, music CDs and DVDs for placement in school and public libraries throughout the province.

A Blue Puttee Goes to War: The Memoir of Captain Sydney Frost, MC

Edited and Annotated by Edward Roberts

Sydney Frost, working in St. John's when The Great War broke out in 1914, joined the Newfoundland Regiment in the hopes of seeing action before the war was over. Like many, he found a great deal more than he anticipated. A Blue Puttee at War outlines life from his days in Pleasantville to his training in Britain and Scotland and his foray into the battlefields of WWI. The book gives a personal account of the impacts of the war, the effect of technology on the war, the incompetence of the generals and the heroes who he met along the way.

A Newfoundland Adventure

Dawn Baker

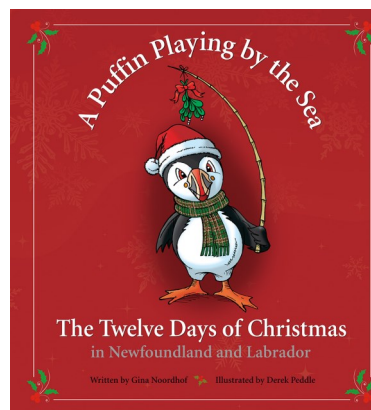

This story of three modern children who, while playing upon a beach, find an ominous cave that takes them back through history to the adventures of Captain Peter Easton and his rescue of the beautiful Irish Princess, Sheila NaGeira, in the early 17th century. The cave tunnel becomes a portal to the past in this beautifully illustrated tale. Younger students can be exposed to the elements of fantasy, history, art and storytelling as The Newfoundland Adventure takes them back through time like David, Richard and Heather, the story's three protagonists.

Johnny and the Gypsy Moth

Deannie Sullivan-Fraser/Illustrator:
Hilda Rose

Young Johnny Sullivan and his family just moved from St. John's to Grand Falls in this turn of the century tale. Trying to make new friends, Johnny is mocked by the other boys for his lace collar "fancy" clothes. A package arrives which turns out to be a picture of a bi-plane, and two white, silk scarves. Johnny learns it is Newfoundland's very own Gypsy Moth. Filled with colorful illustrations, this book will be a joy as students read a story of early days of airmail delivery in this province.

Life Lines: The Lanier Phillips Story

Christine Welldon

In this work of non-fiction, author Christine Welldon recounts the life story of Lanier Phillips and how acts of kindness of the people of St. Lawrence helped change his life. The book begins with a story of hatred and racism concerning his childhood. At the age of 18, he joined the U.S. Navy, only to be the victim of further racism. On a fateful night in 1942, the Truxton ran aground on the rocks near St. Lawrence and the compassion showed to Lanier Phillips made him realize that there were people in the world who would not judge him by colour but would treat him as an equal. This book is a must read and exemplifies the power of the human spirit.
