Language Arts

- students will speak and listen to explore, extend, clarify, and reflect on their thoughts, ideas, feelings, and experiences
- express feeling and give examples of past experiences
- begin to ask and respond to questions, seeking information (who? what? where? when?)
- students will be able to communicate information and ideas effectively and clearly, and to respond personally and critically
- participate in small and whole group discussion
- begin to use gestures and tone to convey meaning
- respond to and give simple directions or instructions
- engage in simple oral presentations and respond to oral presentations and other texts
- students will be able to interact with sensitivity and respect, considering the situation, audience and purpose
- demonstrate that they are becoming aware of social conventions in group work and cooperative play
- develop the concepts/vocabulary of feelings and an awareness that some vocabulary choices can hurt people
- students will be expected to select, read, and view with understanding a range of literature, information, media, visual and audio texts
- understand basic concepts of print including directionality, word, space, letter, and sound
- engage in reading or reading-like behaviour as they experience a variety of literature use, with support, the various cueing systems and a variety of strategies to construct meaning from text
 - use meaning cues (personal experiences, context, picture cues) to predict, confirm/self-correct
 - use knowledge of oral language patterns (syntax) to predict, confirm/self-correct
 - begin to use knowledge of sound-symbol relationships as one reading cue(e.g., initial and final consonants)
 - begin to match one-to-one spoken to printed word
 - begin to recognize some high frequency sight words
- students will be expected to use writing and other forms of representing to explore, clarify, and reflect on their thoughts, feelings, experiences, and learnings; and to use their imagination
- understand that print carries a message

- use writing and other forms of representing to convey meaning (communicating messages, recording experiences, expressing feeling and imaginative ideas, exploring learning)
- students will be expected to create texts collaboratively and independently, using a variety of forms for a range of audiences and purposes
- create written and media texts using some familiar forms (e.g., lists, letters, personal narratives, retellings, messages, finger plays, drawing, puppetry)
- demonstrate a beginning awareness of audience and purpose
- begin to consider readers'/listeners'/viewers' questions/comments about their work
- students will be expected to use a range of strategies to develop effective writing and media products to enhance their clarity, precision, and effectiveness
- begin to develop strategies for prewriting, drafting, revising, editing, and presenting, e.g.,
 - use drawing and talking as ways to rehearse for writing
 - take risks with temporary spelling as a strategy for getting ideas on paper (drafting)
 - confer with others, respond orally to comments, and begin to add on (simple revision strategies)
 - use simple editing strategies such as adding more letters to one or two words, or putting in periods
 - share writing and other representations with others in a variety of ways
 - use some conventions of written language
 - use drawings, letters, and approximations to record meaning
 - develop the concept of directionality (left to right; top to bottom)
 - establish one-to-one correspondence between spoken and written words
 - begin to use spacing between words
 - write complete sentences (although they are not always punctuated correctly with periods)
 - experiment with punctuation (sometimes overgeneralize use of periods - e.g., periods after every word)
 - understand that letters can be written in upper and lower case forms (but often tend to use them indiscriminately)
 - use letters to represent the predominant sounds in words (e.g., beginning sound; beginning and final sound; beginning, middle, and ending sound)
 - begin to spell some words conventionally
- demonstrate engagement with writing and other forms of representation
 - choose to write when given a choice of activities
 - take risks to express self in writing
