1. Organizational Overview

The Provincial Advisory Council on the Status of Women (the Advisory Council) was established in 1980 by the Government of the day and received legislative standing with the introduction of the Status of Women Advisory Council Act. It was created to advise the Provincial Government on issues affecting the status of women as well as to raise awareness of women's issues within the general public. The Advisory Council is an arms-length legislated body which reports to the Minister Responsible for the Status of Women.

The eleven-member Advisory Council is appointed for three year terms by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. Appointments reflect regional representation, diverse backgrounds and experience of women throughout the province. The members are eligible for re-appointment.

The President/CEO position is salaried and filled through a competition and subsequent appointment. Council members other than the President/CEO are selected and appointed through a nomination process. Selection criteria include representation from diverse women's population and sectors, demonstrated leadership in working to advance the status of women and the ability to work on women's equality issues from a community, regional or provincial perspective.

The Advisory Council staff work closely with the Women's Policy Office (WPO), a branch of the Executive Council with the Government of Newfoundland and Labrador. The Advisory Council also works with women, women's groups, community and other equality-seeking organizations which share an agenda to advance women's equality.

The Advisory Council provides advice as requested by the Minister and other government departments and agencies. On an ongoing basis, the Advisory Council is asked for recommendations on changes to, or the creation of, legislation, policies and practices affecting the status of women in Newfoundland and Labrador.

Through a gender lens and feminist based analysis, the work of the Advisory Council is centred on improving the Provincial Government policies, programs, practices, services, legislation and budget allocations as a means of advancing the equality of women in Newfoundland and Labrador. The Advisory Council also brings emerging issues and concerns to government. It works with individual women, women's groups, community organizations and the Women's Policy Office to identify the issues and develop an analysis of problems and solutions.

The Advisory Council provides advice to Government and advocates for systemic changes. Advice is generally provided through position papers, briefs, written recommendations and meeting with Provincial Government officials and departmental representatives. The Advisory Council also engages in issue analysis, research and consultation. In addition, it participates in a variety of committees and working groups related to advancing the status of women.

2.2 Public Awareness and Engagement

The Advisory Council undertakes public awareness and engagement (otherwise identified as 'outreach') on issues related to women's social, economic, cultural and legal equality and inclusion. Through a variety of mediums, the Advisory Council provides public awareness and engages with government and community at large. 5. Opportunities and Challenges Ahead

The Advisory Council has completed the three year 2011-14 Business Plan and has provided advice and recommendations to the Provincial Government on a range of issues contributing to women's social and economic equality in Newfoundland and Labrador. Work will now commence on the 2014 -17 Business Plan which focuses on the advancement of women's social and economic security. There have been many positive changes over the past three years including a dramatic increase in the number of women entering and apprenticing in the skilled trades and marine transportation sector; an increased focus and work by community partners and the Provincial Government on addressing issues of bullying, social media risks and other barriers faced by young women and increased support for work on child exploitation, illegal drugs and organized crime. Collaboration amongst community partners, business and industry, the Advisory Council and the Provincial Government remains key to continuing to make positive change in the province.

With the development and expansion of projects in the oil, gas, mining and power generation sectors, communities across the province are experiencing growth and increased wealth. While this brings great opportunity, there continues to be challenges associated with development that cannot be minimized. Continued collaboration needs to occur in order to address negative impacts such as illegal drugs, violence and criminal activity. Women and girls are increasingly vulnerable to the exploitation associated with these activities. Some women benefit from the economic growth in Newfoundland and Labrador through opportunities in the natural resource sector; non-traditional trades and business. Work in these areas needs to continue.

There are still significant challenges to overcome such as the inequality that exists and the barriers facing many groups of women. The Advisory Council remains concerned about violence against women, particularly amongst Aboriginal women, women with disabilities and multicultural women. Access to economic opportunities afforded by the growing natural resource sector poses a significant challenge for these same groups. Work needs to continue on increasing their capacity and addressing issues of violence. Work also needs to continue to break down the barriers that prevent them from gaining employment in science, engineering, trades and technology.

Opportunities for collaboration with government, community and business on various issues facing women of this province are instrumental. The Advisory Council will continue with its current collaboration efforts as well as looking at new opportunities to further its work on the advancement of women's economic and social security.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
March 31, 2014

1. Nature of operations

The Provincial Advisory Council on the Status of Women - Newfoundland and Labrador (the Council) is a Crown corporation of the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador, established under the Status of Women Advisory Council Act. The purpose of the Council is to advise the Minister responsible for the Status of Women, the Government and the public on matters of interest and concern to women. Its affairs are managed by Council members appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

The Council is a Crown entity of the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador and as such is not subject to Provincial or Federal income taxes.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of accounting

The Council is classified as an Other Government Organization as defined by Canadian Public Sector Accounting Standards (CPSAS). These financial statements are prepared by management in accordance with CPSAS for provincial reporting entities established by the Canadian Public Sector Accounting Board. The Council does not prepare a statement of remeasurement gains and losses as the Council does not enter into relevant transactions or circumstances that are being addressed by the statement.

(b) Financial instruments

The Council's financial instruments recognized in the statement of financial position consist of cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities. The Council generally recognizes a financial instrument when it enters into a contract which creates a financial asset or financial liability. Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at cost, which is the fair value at the time of acquisition.

The Council subsequently measures all of its financial assets and financial liabilities at cost. Financial assets measured at cost include cash and accounts receivable. Financial liabilities measured at cost include accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

(c) Cash

Cash includes cash in the bank.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont.)

(d) Tangible capital assets

Tangible capital assets are recorded at cost, including amounts that are directly related to the acquisition of the assets.

The cost, less residual value, of the tangible capital assets is amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives as follows:

Furniture and equipment	5 years
Computer hardware and software	3 years
Leasehold improvements	5 years

Tangible capital assets are written down when conditions indicate that they no longer contribute to the Council's ability to provide services, or when the value of future economic benefits associated with the tangible capital assets are less than their net book value. The net write-downs are accounted for as expenses in the statement of operations.

(e) Prepaid expenses

Prepaid expenses are charged to the expense over the periods expected to benefit from it.

(f) Employee future benefits

The employees of the Council are subject to the Public Service Pensions Act, 1991. Employee contributions are matched by the Council and remitted to the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador Pooled Pension Fund from which pensions will be paid to employees when they retire. This plan is a defined benefit plan, providing a pension on retirement based on the member's age at retirement, length of service and highest earnings averaged over five years.

The contribution of the Council to the plan is recorded as an expense for the year.

(g) Revenues

Revenues are recognized in the period in which the transactions or events occurred that gave rise to the revenues. All revenues are recorded on an accrual basis, except when the accruals cannot be determined with a reasonable degree of certainty or when their estimation is impracticable.

The Council recognizes the receipt of government transfers as revenue in the period the transfer is authorized and all eligibility criteria have been met, except when and to the extent that the transfer gives rise to an obligation that meets the definition of a liability for the Council. Government transfers consist of funding from the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador. Income attributable to financial instruments is reported in the statement of operations.

(h) Expenses

Expenses are reported on an accrual basis. The cost of all goods consumed and services received during the year is expensed.

Transfers, which include grants and subsidies, are recorded as expenses when the grant is authorized, eligibility criteria have been met by the recipient and a reasonable estimate of the amount can be made.

(i) Measurement uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements, in conformity with CPSAS, requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reporting amounts of assets and liabilities, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of the revenues and expenses during the period. Items requiring the use of significant estimates include the useful life of capital assets.

Estimates are based on the best information available at the time of preparation of the financial statements and are reviewed annually to reflect new information as it becomes available. Measurement uncertainty exists in these financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

9. Financial risk management

The Council recognizes the importance of managing significant risks and this includes policies, procedures and oversight designed to reduce the risks identified to an appropriate threshold. The risks that the Council is exposed to through its financial instruments are credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk. There was no significant change in the Council's exposure to these risks or its processes for managing these risks from the prior year.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. The Council's main credit risk relates to cash and accounts receivable. The Council's maximum exposure to credit risk is the carrying amounts of these financial instruments. The Council is not exposed to significant credit risk with its cash because this financial instrument is held with a Chartered Bank. The Council is not exposed to significant credit risk related to its accounts receivable. In addition, the Council has policies and procedures for the monitoring and collection of its accounts receivable so as to mitigate potential credit losses. There is no allowance for doubtful accounts since all amounts are considered collectible.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Council will be unable to meet its contractual obligations and financial liabilities. The Council manages liquidity risk by monitoring its cash flows and ensuring that it has sufficient resources available to meet its obligations and liabilities. The Council's exposure to liquidity risk relates mainly to its accounts payable and accrued liabilities and contractual obligations. The future minimum payments required from the Council in relation to its contractual obligations are outlined in Note 8.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: currency (foreign exchange) risk, interest risk rate and other price risk. The Council is not exposed to significant foreign exchange, interest rate or other price risk.

10. Ovations

During the year ended March 31, 2014, the Council, as a member of an external steering committee, held follow-up Ovations events around women's leadership. The steering committee consisted of representatives from the Council, the Women's Policy Office, located in the Executive Council of the Government of Newfoundland and Labrador, businesses, the community and industry. The events were funded through cash that was remaining in the Ovations fund from the prior year, as well as through a fee charged to attendees of the events. Cash that will be remaining in the fund upon settlement of accounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities outstanding as at March 31, 2014, has been designated to be used for follow-up Ovations events around women's leadership.

13. Employee future benefits

The Council and its employees contribute to the Public Service Pension Plan in accordance with the Public Service Pensions Act, 1991. The Government of Newfoundland and Labrador administers the plan, including payment of pension benefits to employees to whom the Act applies. The Public Service Pension Plan is a multi-employer, defined benefit plan.

The plan provides a pension to employees based on their length of service and rates of pay. The maximum contribution rate for eligible employees was 8.6% (2013 - 8.6%). The Council's contributions equal the employee contributions to the plan. The Council is not required to make contributions in respect of any actuarial deficiencies of the plan. Total pension expense for the Council for the year ended March 31, 2014, was $19,902 (2013 - $20,645).

14. Related party transactions

The Council receives operating grants from the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador. Operating grants received during the year totaled $424,100 (2013 - $446,600).

15. Non-financial assets

The recognition and measurement of non-financial assets is based on their service potential. These assets will not provide resources to discharge liabilities of the Council. For non-financial assets, the future economic benefit consists of their capacity to render service to further the Council's objectives.

16. Comparative figures

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to current year's presentation.
