

ATTENTION PROSPECTORS

A Pre-Conference Short Course on “Rock Sampling for Prospectors: from the outcrop to the drill”

Presented by Justin Lake and Crispin Pike, NL Department of Natural Resources

The Short Course will be offered at Mineral Resources Review 2018 and is designed for prospectors of all levels. The course will cover theory underlying proper sampling techniques, practical advice on how to collect various types of rock samples (e.g., grabs, channels, chips, core) and a field component demonstrating the methods discussed.

Presentations will be held in the Delta Hotel, St. John's, on Wednesday morning, October 31st, 2018, in the Harbourview Ballroom: the field component will take place near Manuels. Details to follow.

The registration cost for the Short Course is $40 if booked before Oct 26th.

Lunch is included in the cost of registration.

Registration for the conference is required to attend the course.

Be sure to register early for the conference/course to avail of the discount and avoid lineups and delays on the morning of the course.
