Travel costs for the training provider should be included in their quote and assessed as part of the overall employer application.

Eligible Participants

All eligible participants shall be:
1. An existing employee; or
2. An unemployed participant, hired by the employer no more than 30 business days (six weeks) prior to the training date.

Unemployed Participants

An Unemployed Participant is someone not working; seeking full time employment; and legally entitled to work in NL. Proof of unemployment is required from participants. Acceptable documentation includes but is not limited to Record of Employment; recent Notice of Termination from last employer; confirmation of Employment Insurance; or confirmation of Income Support.
A person leaving their current job to accept employment with a different employer is not considered an unemployed participant. Additionally, the unemployed participant cannot have worked with the applicant within the past 12 months prior to the start of training.

Size of Business and Required Contribution

Contribution Requirements for this program are determined based on the size of the business and whether the employee(s) being trained is an existing, or an unemployed participant. Refer to the Contribution Tool on the department’s website to determine employer and government contributions.

Eligible employers who receive funding under this program must contribute a minimum of 1/3 of the eligible training costs as follows:

1. A large business (50+ employees) must contribute a minimum of 1/3 of the Eligible Training Costs as a cash contribution, unless the business is hiring an unemployed participant.

2. A small business (50 or fewer employees) can make up to 50 per cent of their required contribution in wages or wage replacement, if their total contribution for a grant (including wages or wage replacements) is at least 1/3 of the Eligible Training Costs.

3. No contribution may be required by a small or large business if hiring an eligible beneficiary who is an unemployed participant at the time of training.

The following are examples of contributions based on the size of the business and whether the participant(s) is an existing employee or unemployed participant(s).

Example 1: Small business training Existing Employees - combined cash contribution and in-kind wage/wage replacement

In this example, the maximum grant allowable for the participant is $10,000 per year. As it is a small employer, they are allowed a combination of cash and in-kind contribution. The cost of the training is $9,000 per trainee. Using the Calculator Tool and based on the employer using an in-kind contribution of $1,500 as wages, the employer’s cash contribution is $2,000 and the government’s contribution is $7,000. All cash contributions have to equal the total training cost of $9,000 ($7,000 government and $2,000 for the employer).

Example 2: Large Business – Cash Contribution

In this example, the cost of the training for the Large Business is $15,000 per trainee. The employer must contribute $5,000 (1/3 of the total cost per trainee) to the training of the individual as a cash contribution, and the government will pay $10,000 (2/3 of the total cost per training) and which in this example is the maximum grant allowable per trainee under the Canada-NL Job Grant program.

Example 3: Small or Large Business training an Unemployed Person – cost of training $20,000 / trainee

In this example, Government will contribute the maximum allowable of $15,000 per trainee per year (unemployed person) and the employer will make up the difference (in this case $5,000) for any amount that exceeds the maximum amount of $15,000 towards the training of the individual.

Example 4: Small or Large Business training an Unemployed Person – cost of training $7,000 / trainee
In this example, Government will contribute the full amount of $7,000 recognizing the maximum contribution of $15,000 per trainee per year, for an unemployed person, and the employer is not required to contribute towards the cost.

Letter of Attestation
The business must provide the Department with a Letter of Attestation when training an existing employee or unemployed participant.

When training an eligible unemployed participant, the Letter of Attestation from the employer must include the date of hire, or anticipated date of hire, and state that the individual will be hired upon completion of the training.

When training an existing employee currently employed with the employer, the Letter of Attestation must state that the employer will continue to employ the individual upon completion of the training, and that through the training, the employee will have increased or enhanced skills related to their current position or for advancement with the employer.

1.2 Information Requirements of Employers and Employees

As part of the administration of the Canada-NL Job Grant program, employers must submit an Initial Client Contact Form and Client Consent Form for all employees being trained through funding provided by this program.

The client consent allows for the exchange and release of information between the employee, the employer and the provincial and federal governments.

These forms are mandatory and shall be provided within seven days of the agreement being signed; this information is required as part of the terms of the Canada-NL Job Grant program Agreement between the Province and Federal Government.

The Initial Client Contact Form and Client Consent Form is required before funds can be disbursed to the employer. Payments will not be provided for the training of individuals without these forms.

For contracts less than a $100,000 an advance payment of 70% may be made to the employer, providing required documentation is on file. For contracts greater than $100,000 alternate advance payment schedules can be implemented. For example, intervals of 1/3, and an acceptable arrangement on provision of information where large numbers of employees are being trained; in the case of the later, alternate timing of receipt of this data may be negotiated.
