

Wal-Mart

Dazzled
by the bright
fluorescent lights
give you a headache
relief is now on sale: two for one more purchase and you'll be done your shopping trip
was meant to be a small errand to run into a friend whose energy level is just as low prices every day, the signs tell you
feel like a zombie, checking the price tag for the amount of people here is staggering
through the aisles, hanging onto your shopping cart
is full, but you see another rollback to the card section of this store
is wasting your whole Saturday
is your only day to sleep in here you get lost and cranky
people pack into your car
smells of the store you are sick of course you'll be back next week, to be dazzled.
