

Sunset

The great big mountain
With rolling hills and crescent valleys
Sunny like the day is young but the birds have sung

Mist walks across the ponds
The water ripples through the pond
With trout flowing like a faucet

As the sun sets
The pond gets colder
And the beautiful view is gone.